5.15 Match Start

5.15.1 Punctuality

All matches in the JBL Quantum Cup should start as stated on the website. If a team wants to reschedule, this needs to be approved by all teams in question, and the tournament director. All participants need to be standing by 10 minutes before the match starts (in case when it's the first match of the evening) or by the time the match prequel to the participants match have started.

To visualize:

- TEAM A and B be ready 10 minutes before match start.
- TEAM C and D be ready when Match 1 starts.

This way we want to ensure a fast and fluent broadcast.

5.15.2 Delaying the match-up

If teams are not ready within the time stated in 3.17.1, and thus the match will have a delayed start, one minor offense will be awarded to the team in question. For each 5 minutes the team is delaying the broadcast, an extra 1% deduction in prize money will be awarded. If said team is not ready 20 minutes past the moment when the timer started, they will be awarded a no-show. This means that the match will automatically end in a 2-0 for the opposing team, and an additional 3% of deduction will be added. This means not showing up to a match will result in: 1 Minor offense (3% deduction) and an additional 7% of deduction (4x1% for 5 minutes late, and an additional 3% for the no-show)

5.15.3 Timer

The timer will start 5 minutes after the initial invites have been send by the observer. After this point each 5 minutes will count as delay.

5.15.4 Exception

In case of a match ending up in a no-show, the participants for the next match-up will get an additional 20 minutes to get ready for the match. Meaning that 25 minutes after the first invite has been send out the delay timer will start.

5.16 Match Protests

5.16.1 Definition

A protest is for issues and incidents that affect the match outcome; a protest may even be filed during a match for things like incorrect server settings and other related issues. A protest is the official communication platform/protocol between the parties and the referee.

5.16.2 Match protest rules

5.16.2.1 Deadline for protests

The latest time that a participant is allowed to issue a match protest is the earliest of the following:

- 72 hours after the confirmation of the match-up
- Only at offline events; the end of the event day

5.16.2.3 Contact member for a match protest

In team matches, only one representative (Team Captain) per team is allowed to file, and reply to a protest. Violations can be punished with a minor offense.

5.17 Results of a rematch

A penalty point might be given to the team with the technical issues. Circumstances will be taken into account and the admin will decide.
